- For its 29th edition, Brussels Design Market returns to the renovated Gare Maritime, on Tour & Taxis site.
- More than 100 international exhibitors will delight vintage design lovers, from the most curious to the most demanding, with a selection of authentic furniture, lighting and decorative objects from the 20th century.
- More than 10 countries will be represented : this enables visitors to discover and buy iconic pieces from Italian, French, American or Scandinavian design.
- For the third year in row, an area of the BDM will be exclusively dedicated to contemporary Belgian design. Carefully selected by a committee of design experts, 50 designers will showcase their last creations at the Contemporary Design Market. The Belgian duo Muller Van Severen will take the centre stage as Guest of Honour.

MOVING TO A NEW PLACE : THE GARE MARITIME

For this first edition of 2021, Brussels Design Market will leave the Sheds of Tour & Taxis to settle in the Gare Maritime. The Gare Maritime is a former goods railway station, which was built in 1907 and renovated into a completely energy-neutral building 110 years later. The inspiring story of the railway station ties in very closely with Brussels Design Market story and its very first editions which already took place in this unique place. It is therefore the perfect location to welcome the next editions of Brussels Design Market.

Since its creation in 2002, the Brussels Design Market has evolved into the the largest design market in Europe and has quickly become a must-see in the international vintage design calendar. Maintaining its unique atmosphere usually characterized by flea markets, the Brussels Design Market has continued to grow and to attract more and more visitors every year.

Arriving from all over Europe, the dealers present an eclectic collection, bringing together multiple styles and trends that have impacted the 20th century. Dealers, collectors, interiors designers and design enthusiasts get ready to shop the most outstanding pieces for their collection or their new home decoration.
